

July 14, 1983, p. 7

of the award and I am all for it. This will give the Society such visibility and credibility in town. It should have a very positive effect on membership. This will be the second grant I have obtained for the Society this year. I am feeling very proud of my application at the moment -- who knows, I may acquire a reputation as somewhat of a fundraiser. At about 7 PM, John Klumkiewicz knocked on my door. He had been doing research on the Moss family at the CPL and wanted to know about looking at copies of the appropriate 19th newspaper that contain the obituaries of the members of the Moss family. He also wanted to get some narration / dialogue for the videotape on City Hall. As we chatted, the phone rang and it was Bob Price -- who wanted to talk about George Hedding Tryon. I said that I would be available whenever he wanted to talk. He suggested "right now" and I said "fine", I'll be up in about 20 minutes." At that moment the Bishop O'Connor man was letting out and I looked out the window and JVB was pulling up in front of the building. As we looked out the window, RGT appeared. Extraordinary. Three visitors and a phone call from Bob Price -- all in the course of about 30 minutes. I invited my three guests to join me on my visit with Price. We walked up to 169 Lincoln Avenue -- six houses above the tracks on the left side of Lincoln Avenue. Bob Price is very friendly and has quite a good collection of Tryon material -- he will bring it down to the NEWS office